Pop-Up Dinners

March 16 + 17 with Mariquita Farm benefitting the Big Sur Land Trust

This dinner features one of our very favorite farmers: Andy Griffin of Mariquita Farm in Watsonville. His dedication to his craft and love of the land enable him to connect to his patrons and the community in an incredible way.

We are so excited to hold this dinner as a benefit for the Big Sur Land Trust, an organization dedicated to preserving some of our nation's most beautiful areas.

Andy is hoping to raise $1,000 for the BSLT to help the school districts and youth groups transport kids to properties where they receive outdoor education.

These dinners will be masterfully crafted by John Madriaga, sous chef at Spruce Restaurant in San Francisco. An alumni of NOMA Restaurant in Copenhagen and Manresa Restaurant in Los Gatos, John is steeped in respect for quality produce.

Paired with the innovative wines of Heller Estates in Carmel, these dinners will be an opportunity to meet the amazing people who make up our flourishing food community, all in the cozy atmosphere of Happy Girl Kitchen.
